The plan of a non-partisan movement was detailed at length at the Democratic meeting by Judge William H. King and W. R. Wallace, the latter one of the leaders in the original movement having for its object a commission form of government for Salt Lake City. The committee then decided that the Democratic would put no ticket in the field as a Democratic municipal ticket. Instead, the non-partisan movement was indorsed and a committee of ave named, to represent the Democratic in the selection of a non-partisan committee of seventy-five, to recommend six candidates for various offices at the coming election to be voted on at the nominating primaries.

Just get an ounce of pure mercolized wax at the druggist's and use at night same as cold cream. Remove next morning with water and soap, following with dash of cold water. The mercolized wax absorbs the half-gead earf skin in flaky particles, so gradually no one guesses you're treating your face—unless it be by the result, which is truly wonderful. There's nothing like it for restoring a natural, healthy and beautiful complexion.— ballot.

The resolution was adopted after it was explained that the adoption of the resolution did not necessarily pledge the Democratic party to support the candidates recommended by the nonpartisan committee.

A committee consisting of John Dern and L. E. Hall was named to select the committee of five to represent the Democrats in arranging for the selection of nonpartisan candidates. This committee reported its selections to the gathering and the committee as announced was ratified. The gathering then adjourned subject to the call of Chairman J. A. Young.

Republicans Confer.

All of the members of the Republican city committee were present at its meeting save Harry S. Joseph, who was ably represented by George Wilson, who managed the Joseph congressional campagin a year ago. Judge F. C. Loofbourow, chairman of the committee, presided at the meeting, and Parley P. Jenson acted as secretary. The others at the meeting were H. A. King, Claude Y. Russell, W. T. Edward, W. A. Leatham, J. C. Corless, A. E. Graham Heber Anderson and O. P. Eidredge.

The question as to whether or not the Republicans should call a city convention to recommend a ticket of Republicans to be voted upon at the municipal primary election was discussed at length. It was pointed out that no convention was contemplated by the law and that the purpose of the law was to secure a nonpartisan committee. It was stated that the business men of Salt Lake were trying to further a nonpartisan ticket. Some favored inaugurating the movement, but the committee finally decided to let some one else take the initiative, and it was decided to defer action as to the railing of a convention until the fate of the nonpartisan idea could be better determined.
